Hanover, Auguſt 2, N. S.

ON Friday laſt, the 29th of July, about Nine in the Morning, the King ſet out from Oſterode, and arrived at Three in the Afternoon at Munden, where He was received with the greateſt Demonſtrations of Joy. His Majeſty reviewed that Day a Regiment of Foot of His own Troops, which was quartered there; and the ſame Afternoon Prince William and Prince George of Heſſe, with Brigadier Sutton and General Diemar, waited on His Majeſty with an Account of the Diſpoſitions that were made for His Majeſty's reviewing the Heſſian Troops in His Pay. On Saturday the 30th the King went from Munden at Eight in the Morning, and was met on the Road about Nine by his moſt Serene Highneſs the Landgrave of Heſſe, at the Place appointed for His Majeſty's leaving His Coach and getting on Horſeback: After the Ceremony of their Meeting was over, His Majeſty advanced towards the Right Wing of the Army, which was drawn out in one Line of Battle at the Head of their Camp, on a Plain near Caſſel: When His Majeſty arrived at a certain Diſtance from the Line, a Signal was given by Rockets for a triple Diſcharge of the Artillery in the Camp, and from the Ramparts of the Town, which ended exactly as His Majeſty came upon the Right Wing of the Line; where the King was received by Prince William, and the General Officers of that Wing, at the Head of the King of Sweden's Regiment of Dragoons. His Majeſty paſſed along the Line, being ſaluted in the uſual manner; after which His Majeſty went to a magnificent Tent, pitched for that Purpoſe in the Centre of the Line, where the Princeſs of Heſſe, and a great Number of Ladies who were there, had the Honour of being preſented to His Majeſty: The Troops then marched off from the Right, and paſſed by His Majeſty, the Horſe and Dragoons by Fours, conſiſting of Twenty Squadrons, and the Foot by Sub-Diviſions, conſiſting of Eleven Batallions, and they being returned to their Ground, His Majeſty was pleaſed to ſee the Foot perform their Exerciſe, which they began upon the Signal given by one Cannon, and went through the whole without any further Signals or Word of Command; other Signals being then given for their Firings, they went through the whole with ſuch Readineſs, Order and Exactneſs, as gave His Majeſty entire Satisfaction; then His Majeſty got on Horſeback again, and having paſſed a ſecond Time along the Line to a Bridge of Boats laid over the River for that Purpoſe, went to the Orangerie in the Suburbs of Caſſel, where His Majeſty and His whole Company were ſplendidly entertained at Dinner by his Highneſs. About Eight a-Clock in the Evening His Majeſty left that Place on His Return to Munden, under a triple Salvo of all the Cannon from the Ramparts and the Camp, each of which was followed by a Feu de Joye of the whole Army, drawn up again for that Purpoſe. The Landgrave and Prince William accompanied the King Part of His Way to Munden, where His Majeſty arrived at Ten that Night, and reſted there on Sunday the 31ſt. Yeſterday the King went from Munden to Neuen-Over, to ſee His Studd of Horſes, and lay laſt Night at Rothenkirchen, and this Afternoon His Majeſty returned to Herrenhauſen in perfect Health. The Lord Townſhend and Lord Waldegrave came back this Evening to Hanover, as did alſo Count Kinski and ſeveral other foreign Miniſters. On the 30th of July in the Evening M. 'Tis thought His Majeſty will go from thence to Ghorde for a few Days, and then return to Hanover, taking Zell in His Way. M. Dankelman, one of the Aulick Councellours, is come hither from Vienna upon his private Affairs. Yeſterday arrived here the Lord Boyne, of the Kingdom of Ireland, in Company with Edward Walpole, Eſq; from Geneva, but laſt from Caſſel, where they had been to ſee the Review of the Heſſian Troops.
